

Alexander James Farantzos

Hi, my name is Alex Farantzos. To me, Jesus is my savior and the light in my life. He is with me during the easy days and times that I struggle. Jesus is very important to me because he has shown me to help others and have faith in people. Having faith in Jesus, means that you will always believe and trust in him no matter what. To me, being a Christian means that you are a part of the house of the Lord and always will be. I try to live my life in a way that Jesus would expect from a Christian. St. Paul's Church has supported me in many ways, like sending me to Lutherlyn. I was able to connect more with my friends and the Lord during my stay there. The friendships I made there have been long lasting. Another way the church has supported me, is helping our Confirmation class to go to Imperial, PA this summer. We will be able to help people rebuild their homes and be given the opportunity to strengthen our connection with God. In my three years of Confirmation I have learned to help, be kind, and respectful of others; and teach them about God through my actions. I also learned to not spread chaos in the church. I plan to be involved in the church by acolyting and being involved in the youth groups in the many years to come. I would like to thank Pastor Scott for being a great example and always putting me in a good mood. I would also like to thank Amy for being a great teacher and having a lot of patience for dealing with the 3 stooges. I would also like to thank all of my Sunday School teachers that I have had over the years. Finally, I would like to thank my family for always being there for me and leading me down the path towards Christ.
